2019 NISG General Election

I am running for this position to make a difference within the College of Business. I personally feel like I can represent and connect with students of marginalized groups that are in the College of Business. I also believe there needs to be more representation in NISG and I think I can help to improve it. That representation should not just be by race but also include diversity within sexual orientations, heritage, and life experience. I personally would like to be more involved with NISG this upcoming year and learn how the decisions they make affect me. I think this position would serve as a great introduction into NISG and help me get even more involved with NISG in the future. I will also serve as an advocate and representative of my college but also for any student who feels like their comments and concerns are not heard or not being solved.

I think I am qualified for this position because I have held many leadership positions currently and in the past; being Chair of Public Relations for Black Student Union and V.P of Marketing for Ethnic Student Promoters, as well as currently being President of Black Student Union. From those positions, I have learned about the importance of listening to everyone’s ideas and opinions and coming up with a solution that everyone can agree on. I think just being a student in the College of Business makes me qualified for this position because I experience the same things that other CBA students go through. My strengths from StrengthsQuest are positivity, learner, empathy, resorativitve, and adaptability. I think all those are necessary and important when being in a position to advocate and make change for students.

In my opinion, the biggest problem facing the UNI student body currently is the lack of diversity. I also think that the staff doesn't reflect the diversity of students that we do have on campus. I also do believe that there are more problems on this campus and I would like to help find solutions to some of those of problems.

I would like to help change the diversity within the UNI student body and within NISG as well. I would like to better advocate for the students in the College of Business and do whatever has to be done to make the overall experience of being a student at UNI better, whether it means helping making an initiative for the students within the college or something that can benefit all students.

I think in order to accomplish this goal, I want to get more underrepresented students involved with NISG. To accomplish that, I think it would mean meeting with different student organizations and learning about the issues they face and taking that back to NISG and talking with those orgs on how they can attend meetings and how to use their voice along with mine to push the change that we need on this campus.
